MUST OBEY LAWS.

Governor Campbell Speaks In No Uncertain Terms.

Austin, Dec. 12.—San Antonio and Bexar county, like any other city or county in Texas, must obey the laws of the state, and its officers must see that they are properly enforced, is the determination of Governor Campbell, according to what he said when asked for his future plans regarding his failure to sign commissions of county officials of Bexar county. The governor declared that San Antonio had no more right than any other city to flagrantly violate laws. He asserted he had been informed that gambling was going on wide open and that saloons were open on Sundays, and this must stop.

In answer to a question he said that he has exacted no promises from any of the county officials of Bexar county, but that they have sworn to do their duties imposed by the office to which they were elected and this must be done. He scouted the idea that mandamus proceedings might be instituted against him, as the chief executive of Texas cannot be mandamus.

It is now apparent that the matter will be in the supreme court within a short time.

It is understood at Austin that the commissions of the county officials of Comal and Galveston counties are also to be held up when presented to the governor for his signature.

Complaints Reach Cousins.

Austin, Dec. 12.—State Superintendent of Education Cousins says that complaints are reaching his department from all over the state at the failure of book publishing companies that have contracts to furnish books for the schools to deliver same. The attention of the depository at Dallas was called to the matter and Superintendent Cousins says the answer is it cannot get books from the publishers. The matter may be called to the attention of the attorney general, as textbook law provides that book companies may be penalized for failure to deliver books.

Relative to Misrepresentations.

Austin, Dec. 12.—The railroad commission is preparing a circular directed against shippers in the state at alleged misrepresentation in shipment of goods. The commission declares this practice must stop or prosecutions will follow.

Love Will Make Recommendation.

Austin, Dec. 12.—Insurance commissioner Love says he will recommend legislation for the regulation and supervision of unincorporated or co-operative insurance companies.

"Live at Home" Campaign.

Fort Worth, Dec. 12.—President Neill of the Texas Farmers' union announces that about 200 county presidents will convene here Dec. 22 and 23 to launch a "live at home" campaign, the purpose of which is to induce the members to raise all that is possible on the farm and buy no produce whatever. Commissioner of Agriculture Kone will address the meeting. It is considered the result of the meeting will be most far-reaching and as important as any action ever taken.

TAKES GLOOMY VIEW.

Former Panama Minister Says Canal Cost Will Double Estimate.

Paris, Dec. 12.—Philippe Bunau-Varilla, formerly Panama minister to the United States and once an engineer engaged in the construction of the Panama canal, takes the gloomiest of views concerning the prospects of the canal. He says the cost will be $280,000,000—double the estimate made by the United States.

"It is to render service to the United States to affirm that the plan that is now being carried out will result almost surely in the greatest disaster in the history of public undertakings," he said. "The existence of the canal depends on Catun dam. I and all French engineers who studied the question were absolutely convinced that the nature of the ground makes certain the destruction of the dam that is being erected. The recent accident to Catun dam confirms this view.

"An American engineer attributes the sinking of the dam to heavy rains acting on the blue clay subsoil. What would happen if, instead of rain, there came eighty-five feet of water, exercising a pressure of two and a half atmospheres? It is the same situation that caused the dam at La Boca to be abandoned as impracticable. The only remedy is to remove Catun dam fifteen kilometres to Miraflores."

Pythian Sanitarium.

Chicago, Dec. 12.—Dr. G. G. McConnell, medical examiner in chief of the Knights of Pythias, announced that it has been formally decided that a sanitarium for tuberculosis patients affiliated with the order shall be established in New Mexico.

Bremond Business Block Burns.

Bremond, Tex., Dec. 12.—Fire destroyed a business block and threatened another. Loss is $64,500.

One Hundred More Ovens.

Washington, Pa., Dec. 12.—Bessemer Coal and Coke company will construct 100 additional coke ovens.

German Battleship Launched.

Kiel, Dec. 12.—A German battleship of about 18,000 tons was successfully launched here. Princess Radolin, wife of the German ambassador at Paris, christened the vessel the Posen.

Pryor Seeks Legislation.

Washington, Dec. 12.—Hon. Ike Pryor of San Antonio is trying to induce congress to pass a law amending the interstate commerce law was to allow the commission to pass on rate advances before promulgated. He also urges a law compelling railroads to pay shippers demurrage if cars are not furnished shortly after ordered.

Confident of Straightening It.

Houston, Dec. 12.—Detective Findley of Chicago left Houston for Chicago with W. Briggs Goodrich, who is wanted in that city on a charge of embezzlement. It is alleged that he appropriated to his own use about $5,000 belonging to the widow of Michael McDonald. Goodrich is convinced he will be able to straighten the matter.

Rev. Dr. Challener informs us that he has just received a letter from Rev. Colby D. Hall, state president of the Interdenominational Christian Endeavor society that he will be in Bryan next Sunday, Dec. 20, and preach at the Christian church. Dr. Hall is quite a talented speaker and Dr. Challener is glad that the people of Bryan have an opportunity to hear him.

Human Hearts.

An advance notice says:

The mere announcement that the people's favorite play, "Human Hearts" is coming to our city, is a matter of much import to the theatergoers in our midst. No melodrama of modern times has enjoyed the vogue that has been accorded to W. E. Nankeville's solid substantial success, "Human Hearts."

The reason is apparent. The play is interesting from the rise of the curtain on the first act until the final curtain falls. The climaxes are strong and exciting and the story is one that will appeal to all classes of theatergoers, no matter what their stations in life may be.

The situations, lines and incidental business of the play are of such a nature that they compel the undivided attention of the spectators. A strong vein of comedy runs through the play but it is so placed that never at any time does it conflict with the more serious scenes. The author has been careful to preserve the dramatic unities. His characters are finely drawn and as true to nature as possible, in fact, he has taken most of his characters from life. Human Hearts will be seen here on the night of Dec. 15.

Musical Program.

Mr. J. Bert Graham, organist and choirmaster of the First Methodist church will introduce the following musical number during the services today.

Morning.

Cozy Improvements.

Improvements are constantly being made at the Cozy. During the past week a nice little stage, with drop curtain and accessories, has been added, better illumination provided and the picture machine improved. In order to make his place more popular with the public, Mr. Cavitt, has engaged a man to take entire charge of the theater, and run it just as these places are conducted in the larger cities. The man and his wife will arrive today and Mr. Cavitt says come highly recommended. The new manager will devise constant change in program and put on vaudeville whenever he deems proper. The lady is said to sing quite nicely and illustrated songs will be made a feature of the show. The new manager takes charge today.

Queen Wilhelmina Cables.

A cablegram from Queen Wilhelmina of Holland was today received by the circus committee of Allen Academy, as follows:

The Hague, Dec. 12, 1908.

I have learned of your great circus and fun carnival of the near future.

If you can arrange to fix your date so as to give me time to get there, I would be delighted to attend. I suggest Friday, Dec. 18.

To accommodate the Queen this date has been agreed upon.

Stove Repairing.

Now is the time for you to have your old stove made as good as new. Save money by having me fix the old one. All repairs guaranteed and done reasonable. Phone 217. W. W. Griffin.

Mrs. Arthur Perkins, Mrs. James Broadus, Miss Hundley and Miss Cora Hundley, constituting the Caldwell Ladies' Quartette, have accepted the invitation of the ladies of St. Andrew's Guild of this city to sing in the entertainment to be given here under the auspices of that organization for the benefit of St. Andrews church.

On Friday evening, December 18th Mrs. Perkins and the Misses Hundley are nieces of Dr. W. H. Oliver of this city.

THIS DATE IN HISTORY.

December 13

1776—General Lee of the American army surprised and taken prisoner by a British patrol in New Jersey.

1803—Francis Lewis, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, died.

1835—Phillips Brooks, Episcopal bishop of Massachusetts and famous as a pulpit orator, born in Boston. Died there Jan. 23, 1893.

1862—Battle of Fredericksburg, Va., ended in a victory for the Confederates.

1884—Attempt to dynamite London Bridge.

1898—Lord Strathecona endowed the Royal Victoria College for Women at Montreal with $1,000,000.

1904—Joint Congressional committee agreed on subsidy bill providing for payment of $6,000,000 to American ships for first year.

1905—First elections held in the Province of Saskatchewan.

Mr. Tom Bond was a visitor from his home at Prospect Saturday.

There was a crowd of shoppers in town Saturday, the spirit of Christmas was everywhere apparent and the stocks of goods carried by the merchants of this important little city were equal to all demands. In many places the toys of course are most prominently displayed, but to the young man or woman who is seeking something for mother—something that will be really a useful and comfort-bearing gift—the same tremendous stocks will yield up just the article desired. Saturday afternoon a young man was leaving Coulter's with a large bundle, when one of his companions asked him what it contained. "Why" was the answer, "I've just bought a pair of blankets for mother's Christmas present." It seems that this young man, who resides some miles north of town, has gauged the gift-giving practice correctly. Give something mother needs and can use. Coulter has an elegant line of blankets in white and bordered at from $6.50 to $10.00 a pair.

A SENSATIONAL TRIAL.

Hains Murder Case Will Open a Mine of Scandal.

Special to Bryan Morning Eagle.

New York, Dec. 12.—That element of the public which delights in the scandalous and sensational, especially where persons of any social prominence are concerned, are now sitting back in joyous anticipation of sensational testimony expected in the trial of T. Jenkins, the writer, who was indicted jointly with his brother, Capt. Peter C. Hains, Jr., for the murder of William E. Annis at the Bay Side Yacht club in August last. Considerable disappointment is expressed over the fact that the trial takes place in the town of Flushing the inaccessibility of which acts as a bar to the matinee audiences of sensation-loving women such as graced, or disgraced, the trials of the Thaw case.

The Element of Romance.

The case possesses all of the elements of an up-to-date romance with a black tragedy for its ending. The scenes were laid at a United States army post, a Long Island summer resort and in the far-distant Philippines, with a glimpse now and then of the Great White Way of the metropolis. The leading characters in the piece included army officers, writers and men and women familiar with the Bohemian side of New York life. And finally, in the leading feminine role, is found a woman described by her friends as beautiful and fascinating, and whose alleged love affairs formed the center around which the plot of the drama revolved.

William E. Annis, the victim of the tragedy, was a magazine publisher and advertising agent. He came to New York from Chicago several years ago and had met with considerable success in business. Captain Peter C. Hains, Jr., and his brother, T. Jenkins Hains, who are to stand trial for first degree murder as a result of the killing of Annis, are sons of General Peter Cooper Hains, one of the best known officers of the United States army.

Wife Witness to Killing.

The killing of Annis occurred on the landing stage of the Bay Side Yacht Club on the afternoon of August 15, in plain view of the wives of the slain and slayer and numerous friends who were seated on the veranda of the club house. At the time of the tragedy Captain Hains declared that Annis, who was once numbered among his most intimate friends, had taken advantage of the Captain's absence on duty in the Philippines to lead astray his young and beautiful wife. Captain Hains was stationed at Fort Hamilton. His wife was formerly Miss Claudia Libby and her home was near Boston.

Loved His Brother's Wife.

T. Jenkins Hains, whose trial takes place first, is declared by the prosecution to have instigated the killing of Annis because of a personal grudge he had against the publisher. It had been hinted that he had fallen a victim to the charms of his beautiful sister-in-law and was jealous of her ill-concealed partiality for Annis. The accused man, on the other hand, maintains he was not in any way instrumental in the killing of Annis, but, on the contrary, had done his utmost to prevent the tragedy. He declares that he was not aware of his brother's motive in visiting the yacht club on the afternoon of the killing and that he himself was only a victim of circumstances in being forced to play the part he did in the events immediately preceding and following the tragedy.

Kern May Not Have a Walkover.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 12.—Monday is expected to be one of the big days in the United States senatorship campaign which is now on in the Democratic party in Indiana. According to the gossip in political circles the candidates for United States senator and their champions all will come to Indianapolis on Monday to get ready for the meeting of the Democratic legislators, which is scheduled for the following day.

There are indications that John W. Kern, the recent candidate for Vice President, may not have the walkover for the senatorship that it was generally supposed would be the case when Thomas Taggart and other leaders of the so-called Democratic "machine" came out in his support. A number of the Democratic legislators from the northern part of the State have organized to make a systematic campaign in behalf of Benjamin F. Shively of South Bend, a former candidate for governor and for many years prominent in the Democratic councils of Indiana. Mr. Shively is noted for his ability as a speaker. He served several terms in Congress, where he distinguished himself as a forceful leader. His friends are working industriously in his support and they are of the opinion that he will be able to give Mr. Kern a hard fight for the honor of succeeding Mr. Hemenway in the Senate.

FADS AND FASHIONS

New York, Dec. 12.—Winter has come in earnest and with it increased interest in furs. All the large and fashionable shops display quantities of furs of every kind, in sets or individual pieces and their fur departments are working over time to satisfy the crowds of women, anxious to make their selections before the best bargains have been snapped up. Never were furs more fashionable than at the present time and never did the shops display a greater variety of handsome and attractively made-up furs. When one considers how greatly a handsome fur set enhances the pleasing effect of a simple serge, cheviot or English mohair tailor-made suit or to what extent it emphasizes the splendor of a satin-finished cloth, ottoman or velvet costume, the prevailing craze for furs is by no means surprising.

Comparatively few years ago furs were black, gray or brown and there were not more than probably half a dozen kinds of furs to choose from. Today it is different. Not only do the furriers offer the choice between more than a score of genuine kinds of furs, but with great ingenuity, they have produced the most deceiving imitations and artificial varieties, as novel as they are attractive. It is really surprising what effects the furriers have been able to produce by skilful manipulation of low grade and cheap furs. One of the latest achievements is the imitation of pointed fox by sticking white tips to the long hairs of a common fox fur.

The widespread craze for long lines in feminine garb was promptly noted by the makers of furs and they were not slow in adapting their creations to the prevailing style. One of the most fashionable furriers in the United States had the happy inspiration to return to the early Victorian style and reproduce the graceful, long-lined Victorine, which is quite simple and yet fulfills every requirement of line and adaptability of the present fashion. The Victorine has been eagerly adopted by the stout woman, because it conceals her too ample curves, and by the slender woman, because it helps her to emphasize the long drawn-out slenderness of line which is the aim of every fashionable woman at the present time.

Pony coats are no longer regarded as correct for street use by the ultra-fashionable set, but they are almost universally worn at the week-end country house parties and at country clubs as a wrap to be slipped on over the white linen morning frock which the modish woman affects for winter garb. They are dyed black or in the natural brown tints, and lined with white satin or brocaded silk.

Three-piece fur sets are more than ever in evidence this winter, the hat having attained unusual importance amongst furriers, many of whom employ expert milliners for constructive attractive fur headgear. Because of the softness about the face, there is no type of winter hat to rival that of fur, and among these none are more universally popular than the Cleo and toreador and turbans, which require scarcely any trimming beyond a cluster of upstanding wired brushes with bead bases, a feather aigrette or a bunch of flowers. In some of the fashionable shops five-piece sets are exhibited. They include fur wristlets, which are affected by a few of the ultra fashionable women.

Fringe is used more extensively than ever for decorative purposes this season. Pearl fringe, composed of tiny beads, finished at the end of each strand with one large pearl, borders the tunic of the evening gown. Soft silk fringe outlines the kimono of the Directoire coat. The overskirt of one gown is cut in points, bordered with fringe, while the girdle, which comes high under the bust, has the ends knotted in front, weighted with fringe. Another gown in thick meteor crepe de chine has a scarf of chiffon bordered with beaded fringe. This scarf is draped over the shoulders and corsage, and is held in place by a knot of soft satin.

Beige and mauve are the colors used for the fringe on a smart costume in beige serge, checked in mauve. The skirt and coat are cut of crossway material, except in the front and back, and the collar of violet velvet is of the Incroyable type. The hat to be worn with this gown is in Ottoman, trimmed with violet silk and lined with beige.

The most popular among the feathers which are used for decorating hats this season is, just as it always has been, the ostrich plume. It is the most beautiful and decorative of all feathers and also the most unobjectionable from a humanitarian point of view, as it is obtained from live birds without causing them great pain. There are several kinds of ostrich plumes. The one most universally used for decorating hats is the beautiful plume with three-inch flues. It is quite expensive, as large and perfect specimens are rather scarce. Then there are the "byocks," plumes resembling the kind first mentioned, but having flues on one side of the stem. This is what is usually called a "plucked plume," although there is really nothing artificial about it. They are usually half white and half brown.

In choosing an ostrich plume, be sure to see that the stem is in one piece, not made of several smaller plumes sewn or pasted together. It is in this way that people are so often deceived. On the plume there should be no paste or stitches; the flues should grow naturally from the stem and the stem itself should be strong, yet pliable.

The willow plume, the most expensive of the ostrich plumes, is a made plume. The length of the flue is acquired by tying extra flues to those already on the stem. That is to say, if you take an ordinary ostrich plume you will have a willow plume. Of course, the knots must be as inconspicuous as possible, and only the added ends are curled.

The chief charm of present day coiffure fashions lies in the soft fluffy effect which is out of the question with hair that is stiff, damp or oily. Therefore the first essential is to see that the hair is in a perfectly healthy and absolutely clean condition. This rule holds steadfastly whether the arrangement be simple or elaborate.

To part the hair in the middle is just now the fancy of the Parisian women, the waves being brought well down over the face, while the hair is turned abruptly back at the sides over two cunningly inserted side pads.

A marked feature of the new skirts is the shifted position of the closing. They almost invariably fasten on the left side of the back, though the bodices continue to close in the centre.

NEWS FORECAST FOR WEEK

Washington, D. C., Dec. 12.—Having devoted the week just closed to the usual preliminary business, congress is expected during the coming week to be in shape to take up the real work of the session. The House Committee on Ways and Means will continue its tariff hearings through the week.

A busy week is ahead of President-elect Taft. With Mrs. Taft he will go to New York to attend and speak at the annual meeting of the National Civic Federation, the sessions of which are to be held Monday and Tuesday. He will also be the guest of honor at the annual banquet of the Ohio Society of New York at the Waldorf-Astoria Wednesday night. Toward the end of the week the President-elect and Mrs. Taft will start South for a stay of a month or more at Augusta.

The Atlantic battleship fleet is due to reach Colombo, Ceylon on Monday or Tuesday and will spend the entire week there before departing for Suez. Rear Admiral William H. Emory, until recently in command of the second squadron of the Atlantic battleship fleet, will be placed on the retired list for age next Thursday. Rear Admiral Emory is a native of the District of Columbia and has had a long and distinguished career in the navy.

The programme of receptions and state dinners at the White House for the coming season will be opened with a dinner to the Cabinet Thursday, to be followed one week later by the diplomatic reception.

An event of interest in theatrical and art circles will take place in New York Tuesday afternoon, when the cornerstone of the New theater will be duly set in place, with addresses by Governor Hughes, Mayor McClellan and others.

Joseph H. Choate and other speakers of national fame will be heard at the twenty-eighth annual meeting of the National Civil Service Reform League, which will assemble in Pittsburgh Thursday for a session of two days.

A distinguished gathering in Washington will be the annual meeting of the Institute of American Architects. The special topic for consideration at the meeting this year is "The Relation of the National Government to Art."

A special meeting of the council of the Episcopal diocese of Virginia will meet in St. Paul's church, Alexandria, Wednesday, to elect a bishop coadjutor to Bishop Gibson.

An international matrimonial alliance that reverses the usual conditions of a rich American bride and a titled bridegroom will be consummated in England Saturday, when Miss Evelyn Violet Brocklebank becomes the bride of George Westinghouse Jr. The bride-elect is the daughter of Sir Thomas and Lady Brocklebank, of Irton Hall, Cumberland, England. Mr. Westinghouse, the prospective bridegroom, is a son of George Westinghouse, the millionaire electrical inventor of Pittsburgh.

Westinghouse Wedding Next Week.

London, Dec. 12.—Society is considerably disappointed over the announcement that the wedding of Miss Evelyn Violet Brocklebank and George Westinghouse Jr., son of the Pittsburgh millionaire, will be a very quiet affair. The wedding is set for next Saturday. Instead of being a brilliant church affair in London, as was at first planned, the ceremony will be performed in the presence of a few relatives and friends in the little parish church at Irton, the Cumberland seat of Sir Thomas Brocklebank, father of the prospective bride.

Royalties to Visit Spain.

Madrid, Dec. 12.—The Madrid press announces that King Edward and Queen Alexandra, the German Emperor, the Archduke Francis Ferdinand of Austria and possibly the King of Portugal will visit the King and Queen of Spain next year. It is added that the visits of King Edward and Queen Alexandra and of the German Emperor will take place at a northern Spanish port.

Hunt-Taylor Wedding.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 12.—Diplomatic and official circles were well represented at the wedding today of Miss Mary Lillie Taylor, daughter of the former United States minister to Spain and Mrs. Hannis Taylor, and Dr. Reid of this city. The wedding ceremony was performed early in the afternoon at the home of the Taylors and was followed by a large reception.

Cigar Salesman locality to represent unnecessary; $1000. Write arch Cigar Co.

THE WEATHER.

New Orleans, La., Dec. 12.—Tonight and Sunday, partly cloudy weather; warmer tonight.—Cline.

Weather Notes.

The western barometric depression noted yesterday is moving northeastward over the upper Lake region, and there has been general, though moderate precipitation in the Lake region, Ohio valley and Tennessee, while inappreciable showers have occurred in a number of localities in Gulf states. The north Pacific area of high pressure is now central over the middle Plateau and is attended by generally fair weather. The temperature has risen decidedly in all districts from the Mississippi valley to the Atlantic coast and has fallen in the middle Plateau and middle west. It has not changed materially in Texas, and at time of report ranged Amarillo to 62 degrees at Galveston. There was much cloudiness over the greater portion of the State, which will probably be dissipated under the influence of the Plateau area of high pressure.

STRAY TOPICS FROM LITTLE OLD NEW YORK.

New York, Dec. 12.—It is not pleasant to contemplate the evanescence of fame. It makes one shudder to think of the sacrilege of grinding the mummy of some ancient Egyptian king into powder to be used as a pigment or of Caesar's body, "turned to clay" used to close a bung-hole. It gives a shock to one's bump of reverence to see a gown that once adorned some world-famous queen, dragged over the rough boards of a stage by some cheap actress. The sale of a great man's personal effects is sadder and more depressing than his funeral.

Sentimentalism is not a prominent American characteristic. A great man may die, his death may mean a great loss to the country or to the world in general, but beyond the passing of memorial resolutions and more or less pomp displayed at his funeral the American public pays no further tribute to his memory. In some cases a monument is erected "in honor" of the great departed, provided he had been a general, a governor or a distinguished politician. Little else counts and even in such cases the erection of the monument is considered compensation in full for everything of merit the deceased may have done for his country.

The other day the personal effects of Edwin Booth, including a large quantity of stage costumes which he had worn during his long and honorable career, were sold at auction in one of the fashionable auction rooms on Fifth Avenue. The things were sold by order of Mrs. Edwina Booth-Grossmann, the daughter of Edwin Booth, who probably needed the ready cash more than a lot of old costumes and still older furniture and bric-a-brac the principal value of which consisted in their intimate association with her great and lamented father. Mrs. Grossmann may not be to blame for this apparent lack of filial veneration for her father's memory, yet the idea of the auction sale is shocking and repulsive to finer sensibilities. "Sic transit gloria mundi."

Some unidentified scoundrel, undoubtedly belonging to the clan of anarchistic murderers and cutthroats, which seems to be the most characteristic industrial product of Paterson, N. J., threw a bomb at a police officer in that city the other day. He missed the officer, but the exploding bomb wrecked a building and injured several persons. It is incredible that the existence of such a hotbed of anarchism and crime should be tolerated in any civilized community. So long as the Paterson anarchists confined themselves to assassinate American presidents, the police authorities smiled indulgently at the "innocent pastime" of their anarchistic pets. If the latter, however, should begin to use members of the Paterson police force as targets for bombs, it is quite likely that the police authorities will reach the conclusion that it would be in the interest of the community to stamp out that nest of criminals.

The younger members of the exclusive set of New York's multi-millionaires have nothing but a smile of half pity and half contempt for the primitiveness of the "Beauty" society in Berlin, which recently invited the members of the Reichstag with their wives and daughters to attend an entertainment, the principal feature of which was a sword dance performed by a beautiful young woman clad only in a diadem in her hair. New York society has long outgrown such primitive and innocent little pastimes. It takes more to satisfy their craving for new sensations than to watch the dancing of a nude woman. If the "Beauty" society should send a representative to New York, well accredited to the exclusive set of this city, they could, undoubtedly, obtain a few interesting pointers.

Scarcely a week passes without the announcement that some prominent actor or actress has gone on the vaudeville stage. It begins to look as if the days of the "legitimate" playhouses were counted and as if they would be compelled to become vaudeville houses or close their doors. A great deal has been written about the commercialism of the stage, with special reference to the commercialism of theatrical managers. But, how about the players? Is it not the rank and file of commercial if a good actor or actress, for the sake of increasing their income, abandon the legitimate for the vaudeville stage? The latest addition to the ranks of deserters from the legitimate stage is Mrs. James Brown Potter. What makes the step taken by her so much more inexplicable is that she did not have to take it for the sake of money. She is reputed to be quite wealthy.

Persistence may be a virtue, but it may become dangerous if exercised without discretion. A book agent, for instance, who has been kicked out of the front door, would be absolutely foolhardy, should he attempt to re-enter the house through the back door. One of the members of the burglar fraternity learned by experience the other day that not only in the book-agent's profession, but also in the housebreaker's profession persistence may lose its virtue and become an ill-advised blunder. Some time ago the man was arrested for trying to break into the establishment of a wholesale fur dealer. His companion was sent to the penitentiary, but he, himself, escaped. The other day he made a second attempt to rob the same fur establishment and was promptly caught in the act.

In sharp contrast to the Rev. Dr. Aker, of Rockefeller's church, the Rev. Dr. Parkhurst is not an admirer of the ubiquitous suffragette. On the occasion of his Thanksgiving sermon at the Madison Avenue Presbyterian church, Dr. Parkhurst spoke of the womanly character of the New England women in colonial times and compared them with the women of the present generation in New York. Incidentally he gave one of the cleverest epigrammatic definitions of "suffragette."

"We had no suffragettes in New England," he said, "I mean in creating them females instead of males. They seemed well satisfied with the sex that God had given them, and thought, perhaps, if they thought anything about it, that a person feminine by nature but who tries to become masculine by artifice falls as far short of what she wants to be as she does of remaining what she ought to be; or to express it by a line quoted from the poet Drayton: 'Nor man or woman, scarce hermaphrodite.'"

It is strange how mortally afraid some people seem to be of "tainted" money. In olden times people were a great deal more philosophical about this matter. "Non olet" said the Roman satesmen and took money wherever they could extort it. Congressman-elect Wiley of New Jersey seems to be particularly afraid of contamination by coming in contact with "tainted" greenbacks or yellowbacks. He proposes to introduce a bill in Congress providing that all used bills returned to the United States Treasury for redemption be destroyed and new bills be issued in their place. The Standard Oil money should be disinfected before it is turned over to the treasury. It might become a source of great danger to official circles in Washington.

Civil Service to Be Topic.

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 12.—Final arrangements have been made for the twenty-eighth annual meeting of the National Civil Service Reform League, which will be held in this city next week. The programme provides for four sessions, aside from a banquet, which will close the convention the evening of the second day.

The opening session Thursday will be devoted to addresses of welcome and reports, including the report from women's auxiliaries. At the second session addresses will be delivered by Joseph H. Choate, president of the league and other speakers of national prominence. The third session will be a business meeting at which officers will be elected and the closing session will be given over to the reading of papers, one of them by Attorney General Charles J. Bonaparte, who, with President Roosevelt, is one of the charter members of the league.

All of the sessions of the league will be open to the public and arrangements are being made to accommodate a large attendance.

Something new is the burnt wood fad. Its possibilities are limited only by the ideas of those who take up the work for development. Mr. M. H. James has just received an invoice of wood for the purpose of picturing and the pyrographic machines with which to execute the designs. He will be pleased to show these new ideas. 319

Mr. T. J. Spangler arrived from Danville, Ill., Friday and will farm next year on the John Koppe plantation near Kurten. Fifteen years ago Mr. Spangler assisted in the installation of the machinery at the Bryan oil mill.

Mr. Spangler arrived over the I. & G. N. after a four day ride. He brings his live stock and household goods with him. His family traveled by passenger train and arrived here one day ahead of him.

SOCIAL AND CLUB MATTERS

The members of the Embroidery club were most cordially entertained on Tuesday afternoon at the handsome home of Mrs. F. I. Garth when Miss Jessie Garth played to perfection the role of hostess and all were entertained in the charming manner characteristic of the hostess. The guests spent several hours most pleasantly with their needle work. Miss Jessie and her mother know how to dispense pleasure to their guests and this occasion was one of unusual enjoyment. A lovely salad course with hot coffee was served and heartily enjoyed. Mrs. R. M. Gordon will entertain the Embroidery club next Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock.

Mrs. Seth Mooring, the popular president of the Entre Nous club entertained the members on Thursday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Rhodes. The hall, parlor and dining room, in dainty attire of ferns and cut flowers, proved delightfully pleasant. Four tables accommodated the guests for the game of five hundred and the players chatted merrily and progressed through several games of the popular pastime which was made doubly enjoyable by the lovely surroundings and the gracious hospitality with which the very air is permeated in this beautiful home. The score cards were quite pretty, featuring the Dutch Girl. A delicious salad course was served the assembled company, who were so enthusiastic over the pleasure of the game that it was quite nightfall ere they were willing to leave off their play.

A pretty Christmas party was given Tuesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock by Miss Alberta Adams, when she entertained in honor of the "Mardi Cercle" at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Adams. The rooms were darkened and lighted with candles shaded with dainty shades. Flowers and foliage plants were employed with good effect and with the cordial hospitality and welcome extended by Mrs. Adams and her daughter, Miss Alberta, the Adams' home was most attractive. Five hundred was played by the guests, four tables being brought into acquisition. In keeping with the Christmas season the score cards represented Christmas trees, the scores being made with dolls, candy hours were pleasantly spent with the game, the greatest pleasure was in store for the guests when they were invited into the dining room and served with refreshments, consisting of the delicacies of the season. In the center of the pretty polished table was a Christmas tree with a package tied in the center. From this, ribbons to the number of the guests was tied. Each young lady, drawing a ribbon in hopes she would find the article on the other end. Miss Allie Conway received the package containing a dainty lace handkerchief.

After a delightfully pleasant drive of five miles, the Bachelor Girls' club of this city found themselves assembled at the home of Prof. and Mrs. C. P. Fountain at College when their daughter, Miss Emmie acted as hostess and extended a hearty welcome to all present. Five hundred was the plan of pleasure and so acceptable did the guests find the game that, although they had assembled at an early hour a late hour found them still engrossed with the merry combinations of the fascinating game. A lunch was served on the card table at the close of the game. Those present other than the club members were: Misses Esther and Francis Davis, Corinne Carson, Hill, Willie Davis of College and Laura Styers, Dollie Reaves of Starkville.

Quite an unusual pleasant entertainment was given the members of the Stubborn Cinderellas Friday afternoon by Miss Nellie Cole. On entering the rooms the first thing that attracted the attention of the guests was a Christmas tree laden with presents. At the proper time the hostess played Santa Claus and each guest was remembered with a gift. The other decorations which were beautiful were in keeping with the holiday season. Most appropriate score cards representing dear old Santa was passed and the score markers for the four tables of interesting forty-two players were pretty Christmas bells. The time passed so happily and the guests greatly enjoyed themselves for they were entertained by a most gracious hostess who was ably assisted by other members of the household. Dainty refreshments were served, after which each guest departed all the more convinced of the fact that Miss Nellie is a charming entertainer.

See our assortment of Pajamas and nightgowns before you make your purchase. Brandon & Lawrence.

LITTLE LOCALS.

Mr. W. E. Graham of Rock Prairie transacted business here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Martin arrived from Ennis Saturday afternoon and are guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Cloud.

Wagons laden with lumber, brick, lime and shingles leave the city daily destined for nearby estates where the material will be used in the construction of new houses and in remodeling and enlarging others. As a financial barometer, the activity or the condition of the building trade is almost as accurate and unquestioned as the individual deposit item or a national bank statement. The large lumber demands is a hopeful sign.

Dr. M. E. Weaver, pastor of the First Baptist church of this city, will leave for Dallas Monday to attend the meeting of the board of directors of the State convention, which will occur in the North Texas metropolis Tuesday. The meeting soon to be held will be the most important of the board. During the sitting mentioned, men will be appointed for the work, and appropriations made for carrying on the mission work in Texas. On the following Tuesday Mr. Weaver will attend a meeting of the educational commission to be held in Waco. These two meetings are the most important, in their particular spheres of any to be held by the Baptist denomination.

Hanan shoes, Stetson hats, Cluett collars, Hansen's gloves, men's high grade overcoats and clothing. See our ad Tuesday morning. A. J. Wagner & Co.

New Arrivals.

Brazos camp No. 104, W. O. W. held regular meeting Friday night and elected officers as follows:

J. T. Mahoney, P. C. C.; T. A. Satterwhite, C. C.; P. L. Winter, Adv. Leut.; W. T. James, banker. Joe B. Reed, clerk. J. W. Fairry, escort. J. C. Bennett, watchman. J. O. Tucker, sentry. T. C. Nunn, manager.

The camp had a very enthusiastic meeting with a good attendance. Several matters were discussed and decided upon that are expected to be of great benefit to the lodge in the near future.

DIXIE'S PROGRESS.

Gratifying Building Operations Past Eleven Months.

Baltimore, Dec. 12.—Characteristic of much work being done in the farther south, toward the reclamation of wet lands is the project announced in the past week's issue of the Manufacturers' Record for a drainage district, including 30,000 acres of land in and immediately around Port Arthur, Tex., and extending eight miles to the northeast. About $300,000 will be spent upon ditching and draining 10,000 acres of this land on the border of Sabine lake, now subject to tidal overflow, and to provide drainage for the rest of the area. This work will require the digging of about twenty miles of main drainage canal, ranging from 125 feet in width and ten feet in depth to twenty-five feet in width and six feet in depth, together with a considerable mileage of laterals.

Another important undertaking is the awarding of a contract for the construction of a dam and power house for the utilization of water-power at Ninety-Nine Islands, on Broad river, seven miles from Blacksburg, S. C. About 20,000 horse-power will be developed for transmission by electricity to manufacturing and lighting plants. The dam will be 1,100 feet long and ninety feet high and will contain 170,000 cubic yards of masonry. The construction contract involves $650,000.

Building operations were fairly active throughout the south and southwest during November, and in several of the important cities an increase is noted over the value of operations for the preceding month. In Norfolk the aggregate cost of buildings for which permits were issued was estimated at $98,950, of which amount about $47,000 was for dwellings. The value of buildings for which permits were issued in Richmond during the eleven months ended Nov. 30 was $3,055,861.

Eighty-nine permits were issued in Birmingham, representing a value of $601,180, which is an increase over the valuation for November of last year of $454,772. Total permits for the eleven months of this year represented a value $2,296,428, as compared with a total of $1,928,972 for the same period last year. In Savannah permits were issued for forty structures, a decrease of two as compared with the number issued during October, but the building for which permits were secured in November are generally of a larger and more expensive character. Operations are very active in Jacksonville, and at the end of October the building records of the city indicated that 8,067 new buildings had been erected since the big fire of 1901. At present a number of important structures are being erected, including the W. A. Bisbee ten-story office building, Atlantic National bank building, and Utica Investment company's building. In Tampa permits were issued for structures estimated to cost $63,584.10. Permits were issued in Chattanooga during November to the number of 155, representing a valuation of $69,890, while the cost of buildings for which permits were secured in Knoxville is estimated at $29,250.

Operations in Houston represent a value of $817,740; Dallas, $222,055; San Antonio, $188,255; and Galveston, $15,300. Exact figures are not available for Oklahoma City, but structures of every class which have been erected here during the past eleven months will approximate a valuation of $2,000,000, while in Pine Bluff, Ark., figures for the same period indicate a valuation of $408,000. The estimated value of Baltimore's building operations during November is $421,218.

Homesick Lad Leaves Hospital.

McKeesport, Pa., Dec. 12.—Homesick, Glenn Morrison, aged twelve years, clad only in his nightgown, stole from the McKeesport hospital and made his way, four miles, to his home at Amherst Terrace, over rough roads and hills. The boy was exhausted and almost frozen when he reached home. The lad had been sent to the institution for St. Vitus dance.

He repeatedly expressed his desire to see his mother after he had been there a day, and when she failed to arrive he cried and told his nurse he must see her. He started the tramp about 3 o'clock, and was home before "I just couldn't stand it to be away from you any longer," he said to his mother and she cuddled him into his own bed.

Expires Playing Organ.

Jersey City, N. J., Dec. 12.—While playing on the organ "Nearer, My God, to Thee," at an incineration conducted in the New York and New Jersey crematory, at North Bergen, Henry O. Kuehne, the superintendent of the establishment, fell dead.

Mr. Kuehne was the inventor of the electrical process of incineration by which it is possible to reduce the body to ashes in a very short time. He was formerly superintendent of the Fresh Pond crematory in Long Island. He was fifty-eight years old, and is survived by a widow and several children.

Treated as Private Citizen.

Paris, Dec. 12.—President Castro of Venezuela arrived here from Bordeaux. The trip was uneventful. There was a large crowd at the station when his train came in, but the police preserved order. President Castro is being treated as a private citizen, and not as a chief of state. Consequently the customary ceremony was lacking. The president and the members of his party went at once to their hotel.

Ryan Contributes.

Atlanta, Dec. 12.—J. G. Lester, secretary of the "Uncle Remus" Memorial association, announces the receipt of a contribution of $1,000 from T. Ryan of New York to the fund pertaining the memory of Joe Harris. Mr. Ryan was accepted the position of the association.
